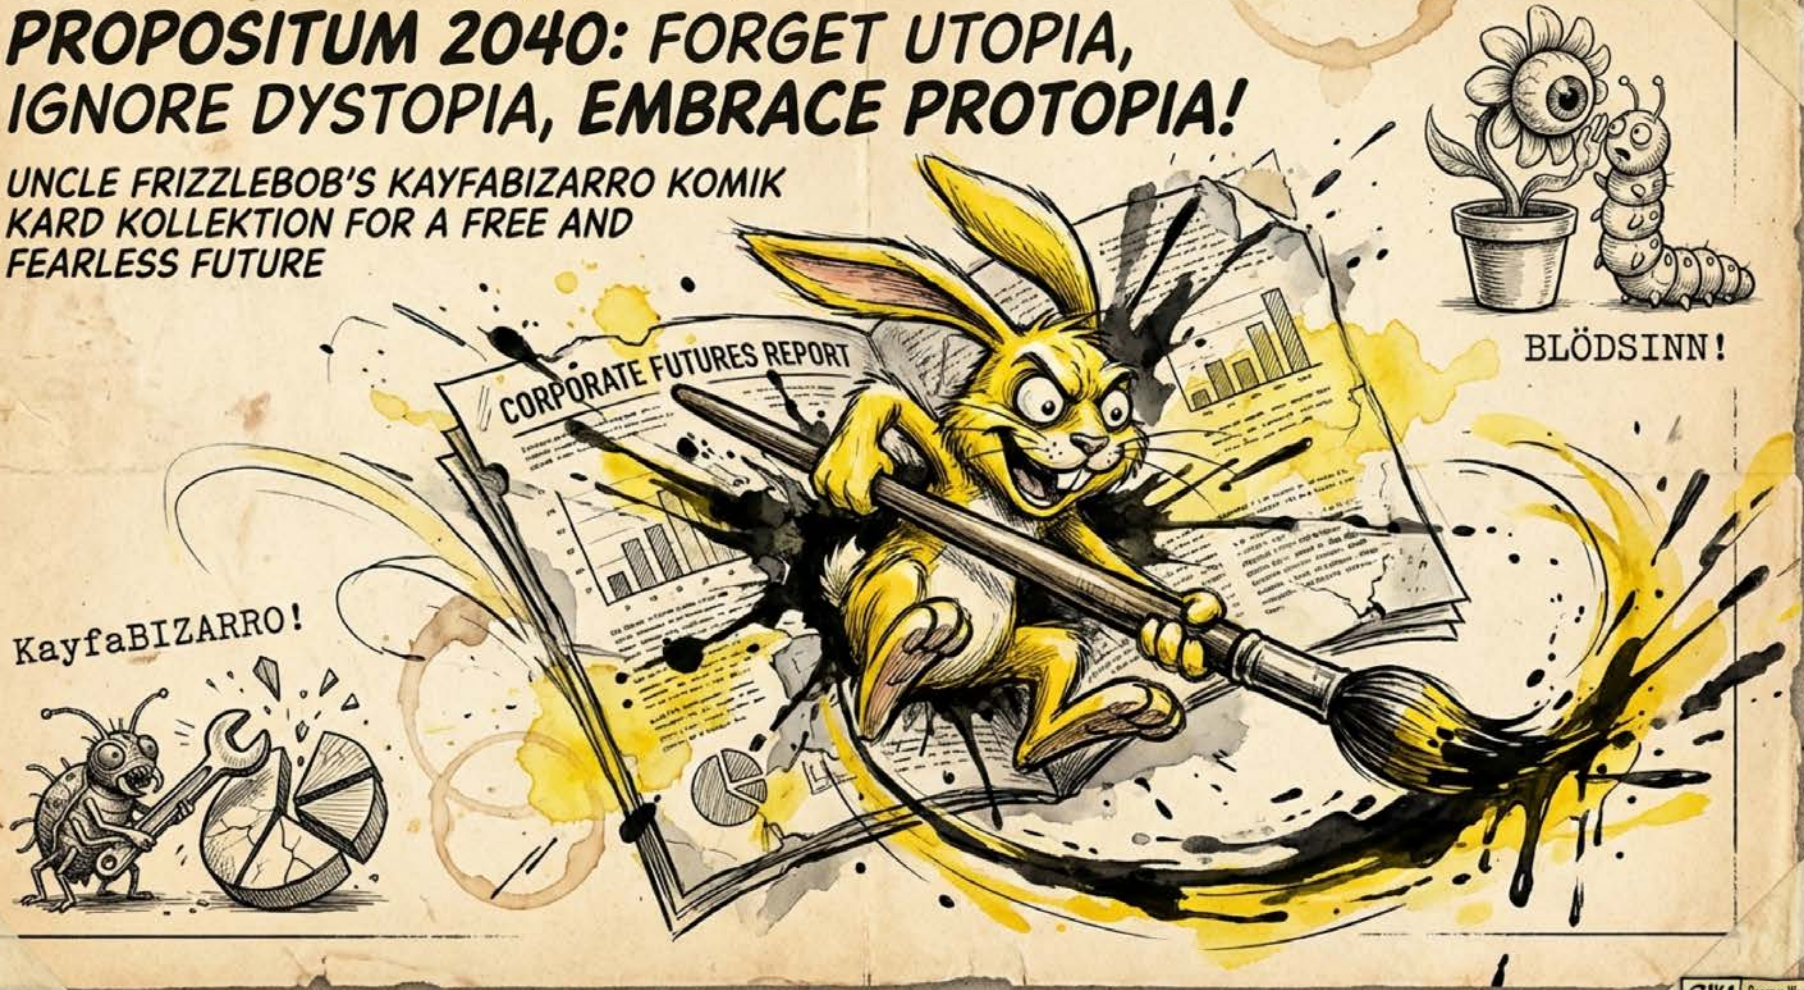
UNCLE FRIZZLEBOB'S KAYFABIZARRO KOMIK KARD KOLLEKTION FOR A FREE AND FEARLESS FUTURE



GW Georg v. Westphalen

The Utopian Mirage

POWER: Skip a turn while staring at the cloude; diecard one resource to the Dystopia pile.
LORE: A fictional default built on aomebody elas's dystopia.

HUMBUG!

The Dystopian Apathy

POWER: Board freezee for one round. Player collecta 3 profit tokene from the burning bank.
LORE: A cautionary tals that devolvsd into daspsrate escapism and a disaster capitalism product roadmap.

The Extractive Status-Quo

POWER: Steal 1 reaource from all other playere to mitigate damage.
LORE: Takes and takes. Bellevea suatainabifity is juet mitigating the damage we keep doing.

HUMBUG!

What the FLUFF?!

The Protopian Process

POWER: Repair one broken board tile. Draw a card.
LORE: Prosctive prototyping. A rsalistic viaion of tackling inequities for a world built on reciprocity.

HUMBUG!

What the FLUFF?!

GW Georg v. Westphalen

KayfaBINGO!

The Pop Futurist

POWER: Instantly silence all critical inquiry cards in play.
LORE: Evangelizing singular tech as a magic pill without a shred of critical inquiry.

The Academic Gatekeeper

POWER: Force an opponent from the Global Seuth to pay 70k tokens just to play a card.
LORE: Excludes the majority of the world. You aren't a real futurist unless you buy their models.

The Tech Singularity Savior

POWER: Destroy 3 worker-ants on your board for +1 Tech Ego point.
LORE: Profiteering from a tech-optimism that has brought us to the absolute brink.

The Doom-Monger

POWER: Megaphone blast. All players lose their next action phase due te total paralysis.
LORE: Sells a binary vision of civilizational collapse that paralyzes seciety into total inaction.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

The Disaster Capitalist

POWER: Gain +5 Profit every time another player loses a resource to a fire or flood event.
LORE: Oh, the world is burning? I can make a lot of profit off harming people and the planet.

The Philanthro-Capitalist

POWER: Generate 10 Toxic Waste tokens, then donate 1 token to charity to clear your reputation score.
LORE: Make millions in fossil fuels, donate to effective charities, and call it corporate social respensibility.

Stay fluffy!

The Tokenizing Crypto-Bro

POWER: Convert an opponent's free action into a paid micro-transaction.
LORE: Believes humans won't act without financial incentive. Distorts outcomes and harms processes.

The Air Purifier Economy

POWER: Privatize the commons. Players must pay you 1 token each turn just to draw a card.
LORE: The ultimate commeditization of the commons. Only the wealthy can afford to breathe.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

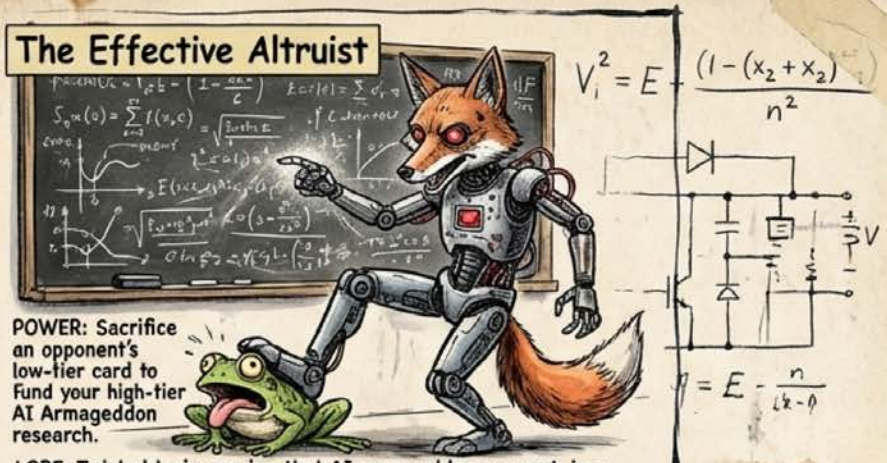
BLÖDSINN!

The Long-Termist

POWER: Ignore all present board damage. Claim victory points for imaginary games played a billion years from now.

LORE: Disregards present climate impacts for trillions of imaginary lives billions of years away.

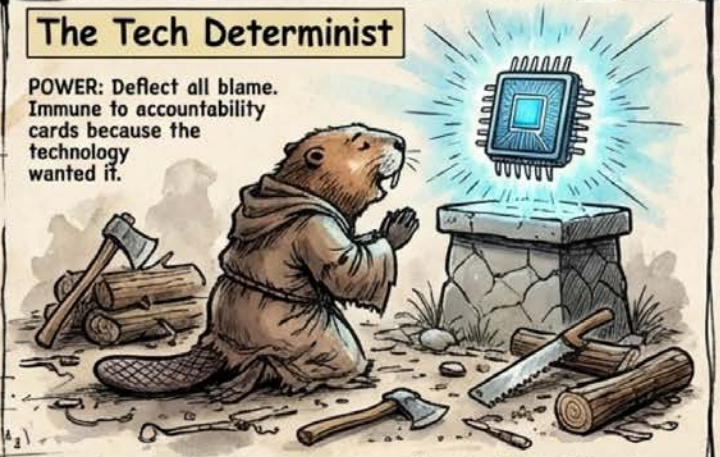
The Effective Altruist



POWER: Sacrifice an opponent's low-tier card to fund your high-tier AI Armageddon research.

LORE: Twisted logic arguing that AI armageddon research is a better charity than feeding a starving child.

The Tech Determinist



POWER: Deflect all blame. Immune to accountability cards because the technology wanted it.

LORE: Preaches "What Technology Wants" as inevitable, hiding the fact that specific humans designed it to abuse you.

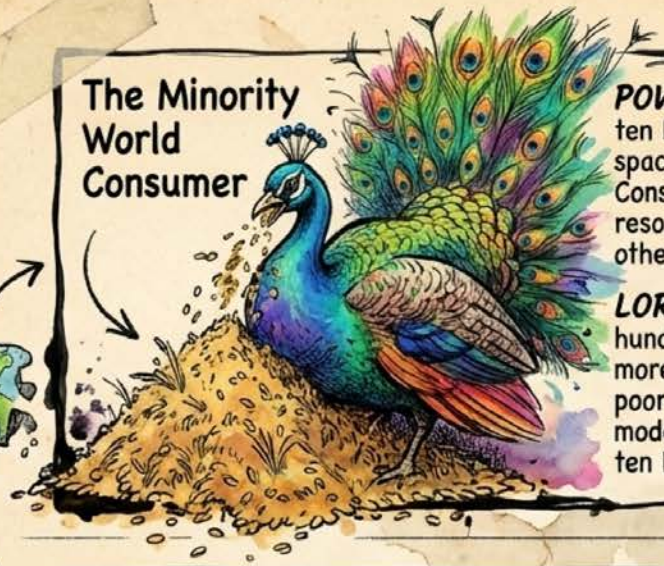
The Semantic Collapser

POWER: Change the definition of any keyword on the board until it means nothing.

LORE: Steals good words like "long-term" and strips them of meaning until nothing is real.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

The Minority World Consumer



POWER: Requires ten Earth board-spaces to play. Consumes 100x the resources of any other card.

LORE: Consumes hundreds of times more than the poorest. A planetary model that requires ten Earths.

The Majority World Pioneer

POWER: Take 3 damage for climate impacts you didn't cause, but gain the unblockable Pioneer Solution ability.

LORE: Where the future actually happens. Contributed the least to climate impacts, set to suffer the worst.

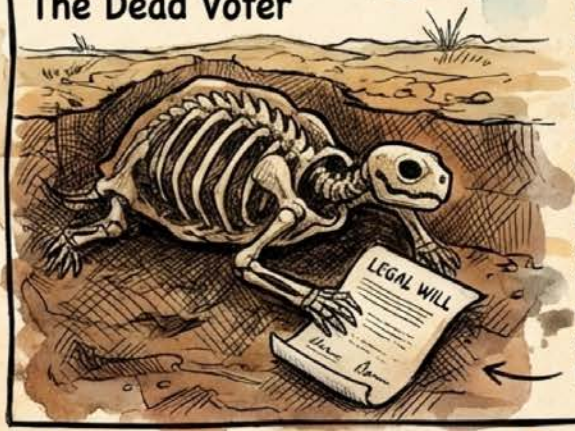
KayfaBONGO!
KayfaBONGO!
KayfaBONGO!
KayfaBONGO!

The Predatory Includer

POWER: Steal the aesthetic of a marginalized card to bypass corporate defense walls.

LORE: Hiring marginalized faces to sell exploitative crypto to vulnerable communities.

The Dead Voter



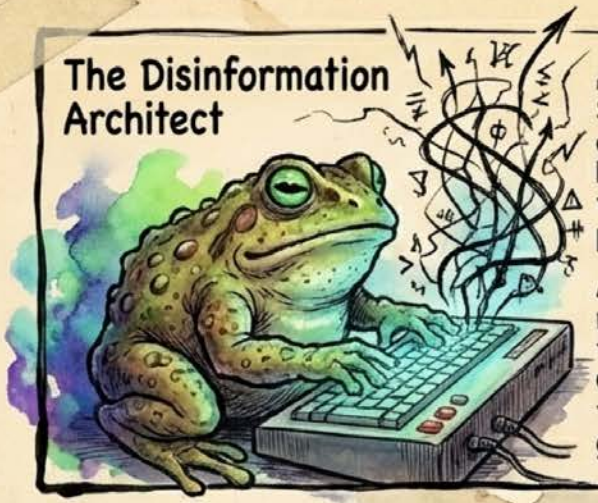
POWER: Cast a vote from the discard pile that locks the current board state for the unborn.

LORE: Dead people screwing up the future for the unborn by funding conservative agendas from the grave.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

What the FLUFF?!

The Disinformation Architect



POWER: Scramble the text of any rule card. Nothing is real, then everything is possible.

LORE: Nothing is real, then everything is possible. Confuse the public to achieve geopolitical goals.

The QAnon Cultist

POWER: Create a narrative vacuum. Gain +1 Follower for every broken system on the board.

LORE: A brand new religion filling the narrative vacuum left by broken systems.

The Elderly Conspiracist

POWER: Randomly distribute 3 Fake News damage tokens to younger player cards.

LORE: Unconditioned for tech literacy, becoming the largest vector for the most outrageous conspiracies.

The VR Fear-Engine

POWER: Trigger fear response. Extract maximum profit tokens with zero imagination points spent.

LORE: It's janky, it's cheap, but triggering the fear response makes the most money with the least imagination.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

The Disability Justice Bear

POWER: Center the bleeding edge. Automatically prevents the next global harm event card from activating.

LORE: Centering those at the absolute edge of technological and social harm prevents the greatest global impacts.

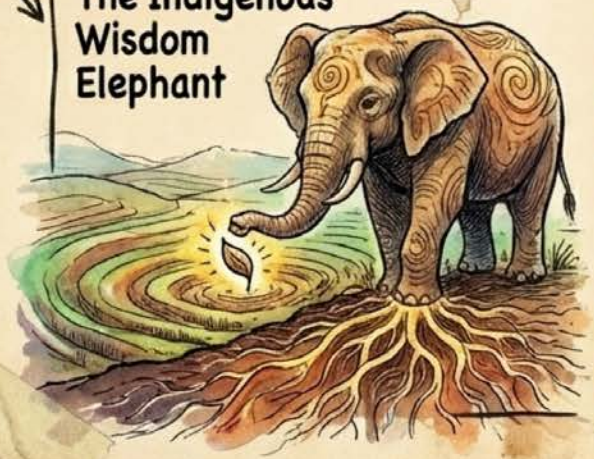
The Queer Futurist

POWER: Plurality is survival. Convert an opponent's Either/Or attack into a Plurality resource.

LORE: Plurality is survival. We need actual curiosity for divergent perspectives, not just tolerance.

Stay fluffy!

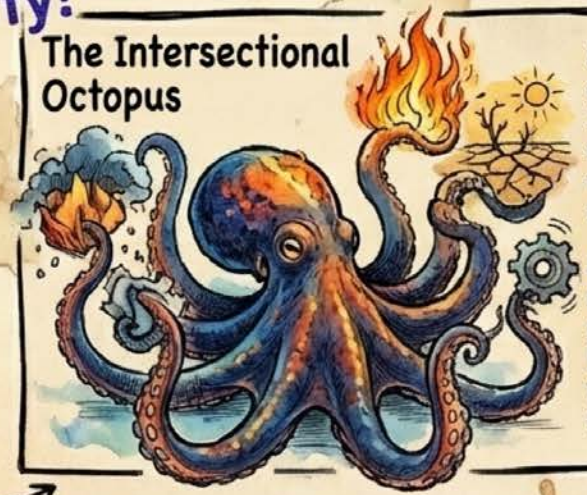
The Indigenous Wisdom Elephant



POWER: Reveal the true history of a stolen board resource and reclaim it for the ecosystem.

LORE: Knew humans were a narrative species centuries before pop intellectuals sold millions of books saying it.

The Intersectional Octopus

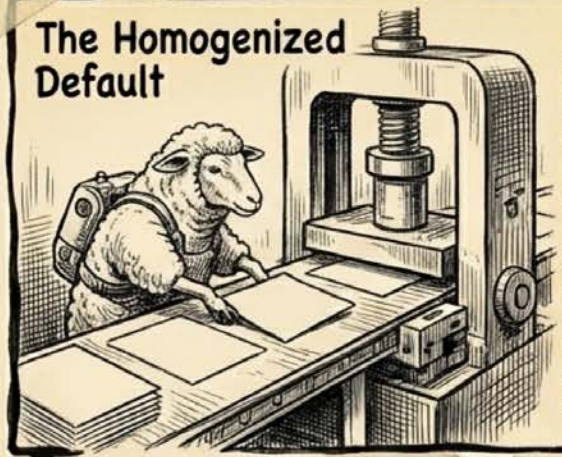


POWER: Lived experience. Play 3 action cards simultaneously when the water starts rising.

LORE: Lived experience on the ground beats an Ivory Tower PhD when the water starts rising.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

The Homogenized Default



POWER: Stamp out diversity. Replace an opponent's unique card with a blank white square.

LORE: Takes a highly privileged, Western, white, male perspective and pretends it is neutral.

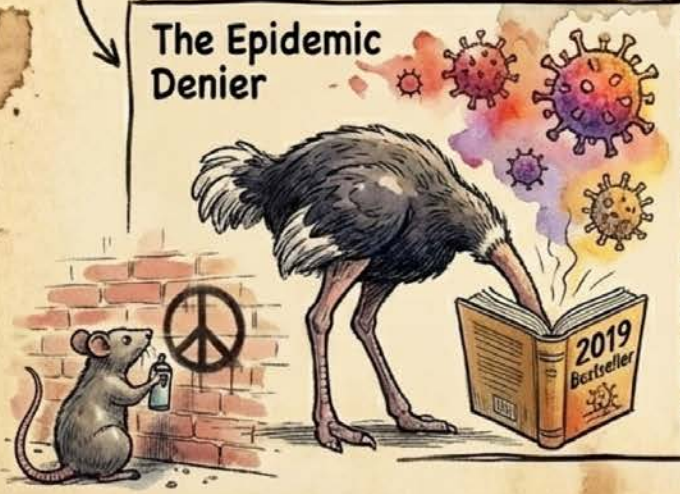
The Unpaid Minority Consultant

POWER: Decolonize a project for 0 tokens. The Corporate Expediter takes all the credit.

LORE: Invited to decolonize the project with unpaid labor, entirely uncredited in the final product.

HUMBUG!

The Epidemic Denier



POWER: Ignore all pandemic damage but permanently lose all credibility points.

LORE: Predicted pandemics were a thing of the past right before COVID hit. Still refuses to answer for it.

The Corporate Expediter

POWER: Apply a green veneer. Sell 3 toxic assets as sustainable for double profit.

LORE: Consulting for industry just to help them sell more stuff with a thin veneer of sustainability.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

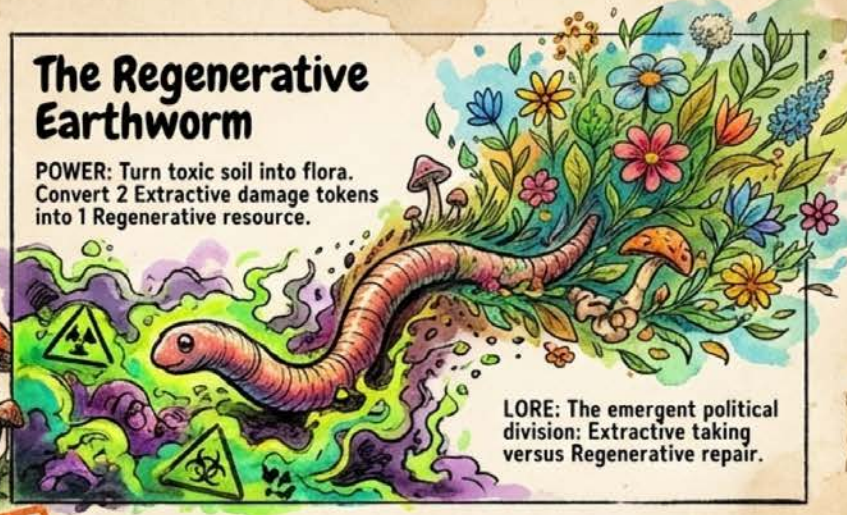
The Proactive Prototyper

POWER: A better future is in the making. The moment you repair a card, draw a new challenge card instantly.

LORE: A better future is in the making. The moment we repair something, there will be more to work on.

The Regenerative Earthworm

POWER: Turn toxic soil into flora. Convert 2 Extractive damage tokens into 1 Regenerative resource.



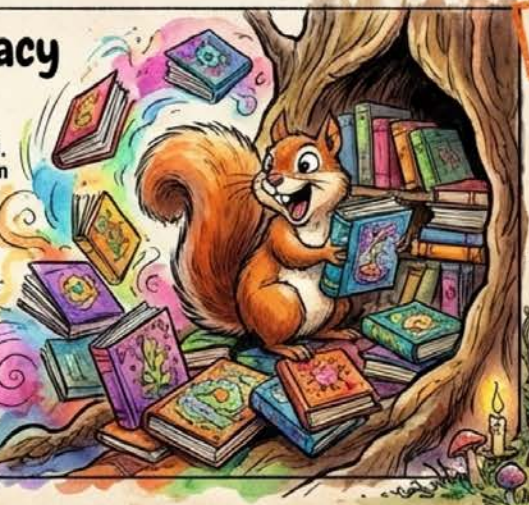
LORE: The emergent political division: Extractive taking versus Regenerative repair.

KayfaBOGGLE!

Futures Literacy Library

POWER: Educate the board. Removes 1 Conspiracy token from all elderly cards in play.

LORE: Must be integrated into primary schools AND elderly re-education to survive the conspiracy wave.



Radical Imagination

POWER: Root change. Discard the status quo board and replace it with something fundamentally different.

LORE: A survival strategy. Not just tweaks to the status quo, but something fundamentally different from the root.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

What the FLUFF?!

The Interdisciplinary Weaver

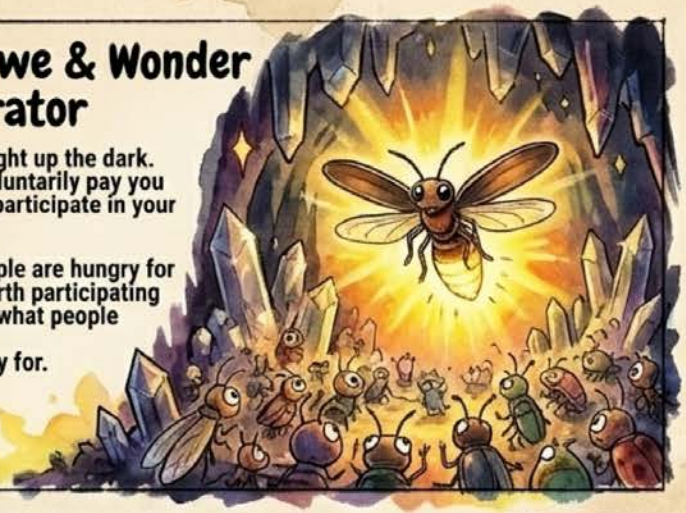
POWER: Cross-pollinate. Connect two entirely different scientific disciplines to bypass a sllo block.

LORE: The future is too complex for silos. We must cross-pollinate to survive.

The Awe & Wonder Generator

POWER: Light up the dark. Players voluntarily pay you tokens to participate in your story.

LORE: People are hungry for stories worth participating in. Awe is what people actually want to pay for.



The Ministry of Stories

POWER: Gamify survival. Make climate action as addictive as doomscrolling. Draw 2 cards.

LORE: Make learning as addictive as a QAnon wormhole, but use it to tell stories that actually matter.

The Historical Bloodhound

POWER: Sniff out bad predictions. Force a Pop Futurist to discard their highest-funded failure.

LORE: Media must hold thought-leaders accountable when their heavily-funded futures fall or cause profound harm.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

The Narrative Vacuum

POWER: Say no no no. Nefarious actors immediately fill the empty spaces on your board.

LORE: When you just say "no no no" without a hopeful vision, nefarious actors fill the power vacuum.

The Superhero Complex

POWER: Wait to save everyone. Do nothing. Automatically triggers the Populism event card.

LORE: The dominant narrative that one magical person will save the day—leading directly to populism.

The Eugenic Root

POWER: Disguise racism as math. Burrow into an elite futurism deck and rot it from the inside.

LORE: Look closely at the founders of elite futurism: full-on racist, ableist ideas disguised as math.

The Vaccine-Hybrid Myth

POWER: Spread 19th-century paranoia. Convince opponents that health upgrades will turn them into livestock.

LORE: Conspiracies aren't new. In the 19th century, they thought vaccines would turn you into a cow.

GW Georg v. Westphalen

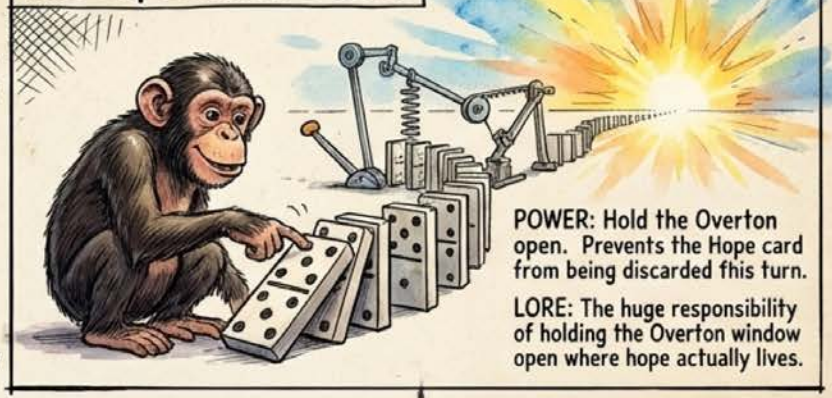
KayfaBIZARRO!

The Central Banker

POWER: Adjust the dial. Change opponent behavior today by lying about what's coming tomorrow.

LORE: If you tell people what is coming, they change their behavior today. Futurists hold this exact same power.

The Expectation Setter



POWER: Hold the Overton open. Prevents the Hope card from being discarded this turn.

LORE: The huge responsibility of holding the Overton window open where hope actually lives.

The Developing Label

POWER: Deliver a colonial map. Force an opponent to copy your toxic growth model.

LORE: Erroneous language implying some nations are finished and dead, while others must copy their toxic growth.

The Magic Pill

POWER: Swallow a microchip. Falsely claim a deep sociological crisis is solved. Lose 1 turn.

LORE: The dangerous lie that a single technology will solve deeply rooted sociological and anthropological crises.

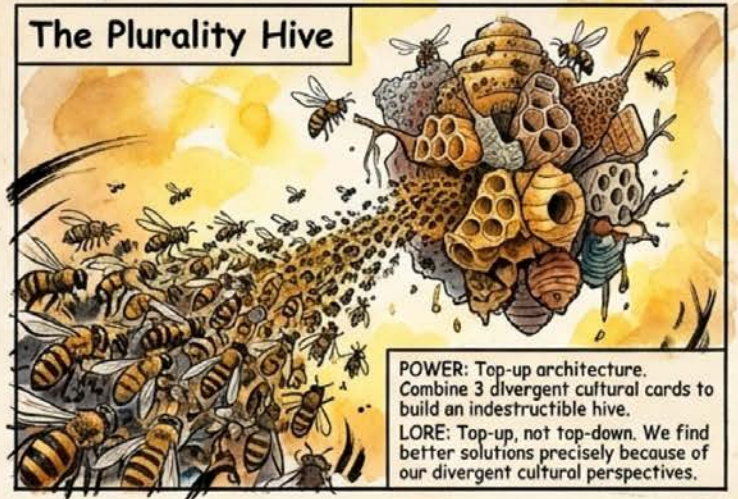
GW Georg v. Westphalen

The Radical Hope Activist

POWER: Couroge to act. Defeat any Doomerism card instantly. You cannot skip your turn.

LORE: True optimism requires couroge to act, and anger against apathy. Doomerism is cowardice.

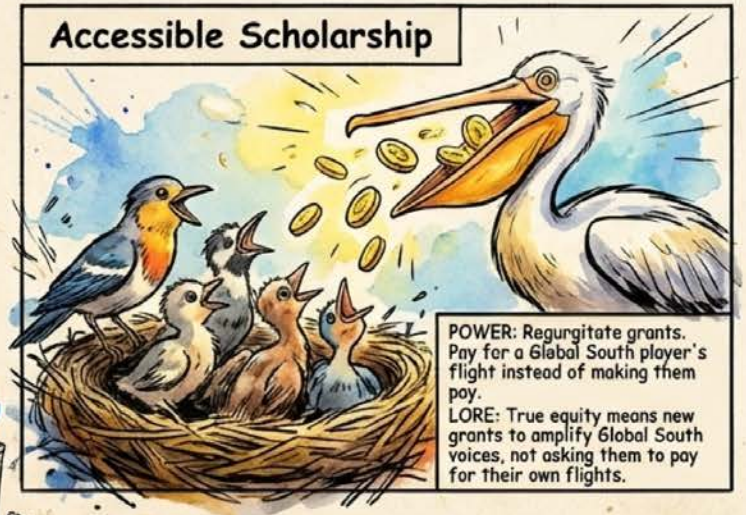
The Plurality Hive



POWER: Top-up architecture. Combine 3 divergent cultural cards to build an indestructible hive.

LORE: Top-up, not top-down. We find better solutions precisely because of our divergent cultural perspectives.

Accessible Scholarship



POWER: Regurgitate grants. Pay for a Global South player's flight instead of making them pay.

LORE: True equity means new grants to amplify Global South voices, not asking them to pay for their own flights.

The Citizen Engager

POWER: Planetary scale vision. Move past the corporate realm and engage all citizens. Win the board.

LORE: Moving past the corporate realm to engage citizens on a truly planetary scale. Is this the future we want?

GW Georg v. Westphalen

Rule of Action

POWER: Passive play is banned. Optimism must be backed by calloused hands.

LORE: Pessimism paralyzes. Optimism must bom backed backed by action wins. You cannot skip your turn.

KayfaBIZARRO!

Rule of Plurality

POWER: Trade cards with the margins. Winning alone is a Dystopian illusion.

LORE: No single player can win alone. You must trade cards with the margins.

KayfaBIZARRO!

Stay fluffy!

www.CancelThisComic.Substack.com/t/Kayfabizarro

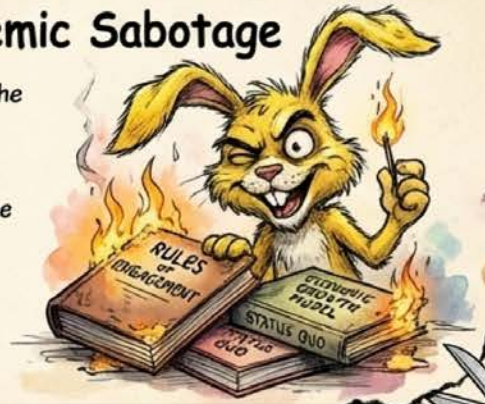
Rule of Repair

POWER: Weave shredded corporate docs into a nest.

LORE: Every time you draw, you must repair one piece of the board. The game is never finished.

Stay fluffy!

Rule of Epistemic Sabotage



POWER: Flip the table. If the rules favor the extractive player, rewrite them.

LORE: If the rules favor the extractive player, flip the table and rewrite them. Stay fluffy!
