THE CREATURE FROM THE FED

POWER: Siphon 1 Labor Token from every player per turn. You are the Creature.
LORE: It's not Federal, and there is no Reserve. A private banking cartel that bought the right to own your future.

FIAT CONJURING

LORE: Money isn't printed. It's typed into existence as a loan, backed by the promise your grandchildren will pay it back.

LORE: Of all the sciences, the science of money uses complexity to obscure the truth. — John Kenneth Galbraith.

UNCLE FRIZZLEBOB'S EPISTEMIC SABOTAGE CUTTING MAT

Stealing from the future:
A European tradition brought to a colony near you!

BANK OF ENGLAND (1694)

POWER: Loan your opponent 5 tokens.
Demand 8 tokens back.

LORE: The blueprint. King William III needed war boats. Bankers gave him £1.2M out of nowhere at 8% interest. A private bank wearing a state mask.

THE ANCIENT BLUEPRINTS

Sovereignty

BANK OF NORTH AMERICA (1781)

POWER: Launch a war. Force allies to use your monopoly money.

LORE: The colonies fought the British crown, only to surrender to a British-style central bank with a $1.2M loan from nowhere.

FRACTIONAL RESERVE ILLUSION

POWER: Bet 100 chips when you have 7.
If called, declare a Bank Holiday.

LORE: Goldsmiths realized only 5-7% of people ask for gold back at once. They loaned out the other 93% that didn't exist. The ultimate accounting fraud.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON'S CURSE

POWER: Declare your debt a National Blessing. Force players to pay your tab.

LORE: A national debt... will be to us a national blessing. He didn't want a free nation; he wanted a permanently mortgaged one.

THE EARLY WARS

Dead Presidents who actually tried to kill the banks.

FIRST BANK OF THE U.S.

POWER: Siphon 20% of wealth, then sell the bank back to private investors.

ANDREW JACKSON: BANK SLAYER

POWER: Cancel one opponent's effect. Scream: No Bank!

LORE: A prostitution of our Government... Jackson killed the bank and paid off the national debt on January 8, 1835. The only time in history.

THE MONOPOLY ERA

If you can't beat the market,
crash the market and buy the pieces.

What the FLUFF?!

THE GILDED OLIGARCHS

POWER: Monopolize a resource. Opponents pay a toll to breathe.

LORE: Astors, Carnegies, Vanderbilts, Rockefellerers. Cornered real estate, steel, oil, rails. Next stop: cornering money itself.

HUMBUG!

THE PANIC OF 1907

POWER: Trigger a Bank Run. All players pay 5 tokens to center.

Just a couple of billionaires going duck hunting...
for your financial sovereignty.

Secret Meeting!

JEKYLL ISLAND DUCK HUNT

POWER: Arrange the next 3 deck cards to your advantage. Lie about it.

The greatest Christmas present
Wall Street ever bought themselves.

THE TROJAN HORSE ACT

27. PURCHASING POWER THEFT

POWER: Do nothing. All opponents' tokens lose 10% value per turn.

28. THE TAXPAYER BACKSTOP

POWER: When you lose a bet, force the poorest player to pay it.
